CHOOSING A FINANCIAL INSTITUTION

Financial institutions are businesses that provide money-related services. They receive money from citizens and businesses and use that money to make investments, give loans, and provide other financial resources.

Read the descriptions of the various kinds of financial institutions and then help the customers in the questions below decide which financial institution would best suit their needs.

Bank—A for-profit business that is approved and backed by the federal government. Banks receive deposits from citizens and businesses, pay interest, make loans, invest in securities, collect checks, and keep safe deposit boxes. They are owned by private investors and operate much like any other business Banks may have online services, but they also have buildings where people work and where transactions can be made.

Credit union — A not-for-profit business owned by its members. Credit unions serve groups that share something in common, such as where they live or work. The board of directors that runs the credit union usually is not paid; its mission is to provide personal service to the customers. The credit union's profits are paid back to the members, but services may be limited.

Savings and loan—These institutions often focus on real estate financing. They are backed by the government and run by a board of directors. They can be a corporation or a type of business where making a deposit is like investing in the company.

Internet banks — Customers can access their money using mobile apps, telephone, Web pages, and ATMs, but there are no local branches or walk-up tellers. Fees at these banks are minimal, and interest rates paid are often higher.

- 1. Joe works at a company where he designs shoes. He needs to have bank services but wants to use a local bank that would support his company. Where should Joe do his banking?
- 2. Jose and Juanita are buying a new home. They want a government-backed bank that understands loans and can also manage their deposits and checking account. Where should they do their banking?
- 3. Jemma has never used a bank before and wants to be sure her money will be safe. She wants to be able to write checks, make deposits, and have a debit card without paying high monthly fees. Where should Jemma do her banking?

4.	Jordan is a businessman and often on the go. He wants to be able to bank anytime, anyplace. Where should Jordan do his banking?

GORDON'S BOUNCED CHECK

Gordon wants to buy either a/an (a)
or a/an (b)
He doesn't have any money saved, but he has a checking account. His check register balance shows $4.56. He even checked the amount online.
Gordon decided to go to Larry's Store. He didn't find a/an (a)
, but he got a great (b) at a price of $24.98, including tax. He completed the check perfectly. He even wrote (b) on the memo line, adding his signature in flowery cursive. Did the clerk at Larry's Store know that his signature in flowery cursive. Did the clerk at Larry's Store know that Gordon only had $4.56 in his checking account?
Do retail stores ask how much money is in your account when they take your check?
Let's think about the rest of Gordon's story. Did (c) receive the (b) that Gordon bought?
Did the store owner get the cash when she took Gordon's check for $24.98 to the bank? Why? Why not?
What is the lesson of the story?

COMPARING PAYMENTS

Cash-Bills and coins created by the government.

Advantages may include: Easy to use; accepted nearly everywhere; fits nicely in a pocket; you can only spend what you have.

Disadvantages may include: Cannot be replaced if lost or stolen; spending not easily tracked.

Checks-A written order to a bank to pay money from a bank account to a person or business.

Advantages may include: easy to track spending; can safely be mailed.

Disadvantages include: slow to write; a lot to carry (a pen and register); money not always taken out of bank right away; not accepted everywhere.

Credit card—A card that allows the holder to buy goods and services by taking out a bank loan for the purchases.

Advantages may include: items can be purchased without having the money to pay for them; handy for emergency purchases; convenient.

Disadvantages may include: possible yearly fee; interest charged on unpaid balances; can lead to financial difficulties if misused.

Debit card—A plastic card that provides electronic access to a personal bank account. It and the similar ATM card can be used to complete bank transactions much like a check.

Advantages may include: quick and easy to use; funds are immediately deducted; money comes straight from your account; there is no bill in the future; you don't have to carry cash; relatively safe because only you know your PIN or Personal Identification Number.

Disadvantages include: harder to keep track of spending; easy to lose; possibility of identity theft; must remember the PIN number.

COMPARING PAYMENTS

Electronic payments—Payments made using an app that allows the user to automatically debit a bank account or charge a credit card without using a card.

Advantages include: doesn't require cash, checks, or cards. Disadvantages: hard to keep track of; danger of identity theft; not accepted everywhere.

Cift card—A card that is purchased in a specific monetary value and used like cash to purchase goods and services.

Advantages may include: like cash, you can only spend what you have.

Disadvantages may include: must be loaded with funds from bank (extra step); if lost or stolen, cannot be replaced; store-specific cards can only be used in one place.

Prepaid card-A card that allows you to spend only the amount you have pre-deposited into that account.

Advantages may include: like cash, you can only spend what you have; can be used to pay bills online or by phone; can be attached to a specific bank account and loaded automatically with direct deposit; can be canceled if lost or stolen.

Disadvantages may include: extra bank fees and charges; not accepted everywhere.

Once the card is swiped at the store or logged in on the website, the transaction is sent to the cardholder's bank for verification.

The cardholder begins a transaction on the merchant's website or in a store.

The cardholder's payment is complete.

FINANCIAL LITERACY

Your child just completed the Financial Literacy unit of the JA BizTown curriculum. The goal of JA BizTown is to help students see how classroom learning relates to real-world events. In this unit, they learned the skills and knowledge that allow people to make informed decisions about their finances. The primary personal finance skill students practiced was the proper use of checkbooks. Students engaged in the entire (pretend) process: They applied for checking and savings bank accounts; wrote checks for purchases; deposited money into accounts; and maintained accurate balances in check registers.

Students were encouraged to complete their checks, deposit tickets, and check registers as shown below. The method of subtracting each transaction on the register is called the "two-line" method. They also learned how to use a debit card. They will use these skills when they visit JA BizTown. Please reinforce these lessons with your child.

COMMUNITY AND ECONOMY

Your child just completed the Community and Economy unit of JA BizTown's curriculum. The goal with experiential-learning programs such as JA BizTown is to help students see how classroom learning relates to real-world events. You are encouraged to further strengthen these lessons by having a conversation with your child about the BizTalk prompts listed below.

Students learned how people are members of a community in which they live, work, trade, and share. They took a pledge to become citizens of JA BizTown, and that oath required an understanding of the rights and responsibilities of citizenship.

JA BizTown citizens tackled the "circular flow of economic activity" as they examined the movements of goods, services, resources (human, natural, and capital), and money between people and businesses. This concept will be revisited several times over the next few weeks. Further, when citizens visit JA BizTown, they will become an integral part of that cycle as they operate their businesses and become consumers who purchase products in the simulated community.

Through a series of classroom exercises, students recognized that resources are scarce and that people cannot have everything they want. Decisions must be made about what to produce, how to produce, and for whom to produce. Students also learned that governments play an important role in an economy by providing public goods and services, paid for by taxes. They explored how philanthropic activities and nonprofits increase the well-being of people through charitable giving. Students learned that when people share their "three W's"—work, wealth, and wisdom—communities are greatly enhanced.

WORK AND CAREER READINESS

Your child has just completed the Work Readiness unit in JA BizTown's curriculum.

During the lessons, students related specific classroom learning to getting and keeping employment. They discovered how interests and skills can be linked to various career and job alternatives. However, no matter what job a person holds, there are work-related behaviors that are important. After several role-playing skits, students discussed how important it is for employees to be punctual, dress appropriately, work as a team, and be polite to customers. Students also solved several workplace predicaments by considering the importance of teamwork, negotiation, and innovative thinking. When the class visits JA BizTown, these work-related skills will be important, too.

Speaking of visiting JA BizTown, students completed job applications for their JA BizTown positions! They also practiced interviewing as they continue to prepare for their upcoming visit to the simulation. Students learned about careers in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) and how increasing their education can increase their income.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE JA BIZTOWN VISIT

Your child just completed the Business Management unit in JA BizTown's curriculum and should be getting excited about the upcoming visit to the Junior Achievement facility. This most recent unit focused on final preparations for the visit to the simulated community. By now, you should also have details about the visit so that you can share in your child's excitement. The most recent lessons, which included Business Costs and Setting Prices, helped the citizens prepare for their roles in their businesses. And the Visit Preparation lesson helped students gain a better understanding about what will happen on the day of their visit.

All students—or citizens, as they are called in the program—have applied for and received jobs at JA BizTown. They have worked in their business teams, practicing the teamwork skills they explored in the previous unit. Teams spent time brainstorming the characteristics of good businesses and discussing "best practices" to help guide their efforts as they operate their own businesses at JA BizTown.

Some citizens were surprised by the many costs associated with running a business—among them, taxes, health care, advertising, salaries, rent, supplies, and utilities. At JA BizTown, business teams will apply for a business loan to cover these costs initially. Then, employees will seek to pay off the loan before returning to school. Citizens learned that a promissory note is a promise to repay a loan within a certain time period.

How will they pay off their loans? Most citizens will work in businesses that sell products (goods or services), so they will seek a selling price that can generate enough revenue to pay off the loans and allow for a profit. Sometimes it works, and sometimes it doesn't. That is the heart of experiential-learning simulations such as JA BizTown. Students make choices and are able to live out the consequences in a safe environment. Be sure to ask your student if his or her business repaid its loan on time!

EXPERIENCING JA BIZTOWN

Your child has now completed the core lessons for Junior Achievement's experiential-learning program JA BizTown. The journey has been fun and educational! Hopefully, you have heard about the simulation at JA BizTown, where your child was employed within a thriving community and economy. Concentrated hours of classroom study culminated in this unique experience, and research suggests that your child will remember JA's program for many years to come.

It is our hope that your child will apply the skills and experiences gained from JA BizTown to future opportunities as he or she enters the teen and young-adult years. For example, the financial literacy skills needed to use financial institutions, including managing spending and savings accounts, were introduced and practiced in this program. Soft skills such as teamwork, problem solving, and business ethics were discussed. Finally, students practiced formal business greetings, letter writing, job application skills, and in many cases job interviewing. The early development of these important skills will help students as they enter the world of work and begin to manage their personal finances.

JA BizTown's curriculum is rooted in the belief that an understanding of market-based economics and free enterprise is vital. An appreciation for how money, products, and resources flow within economies allows for a better understanding of business management, loans, saving and investing, and taxation. Your child now should better understand how the world works and his or her future roles as employer, employee, consumer, saver, and investor. JA BizTown offered your child a valuable foundation in these concepts, and this early foundation will help direct and develop future learning.

We invite you to continue your family's involvement with Junior Achievement and encourage you to visit the Junior Achievement USA website (http://www.juniorachievement.org). JA My Way (http://www.jamyway.org) offers interactive games, competitions, and timely, pertinent information about your child's economic future.
